PLEASE NOTE:

This application is internal to the Centre for Water Resources Research. Once the school's academic board approved this application, you will have to apply formally to the university. The formal application will be processed at a faculty level. Depending on the time of the year, the abovementioned process may take up to three months to complete.

Please note that staff at the Centre for Water Resources Research are not responsible to arrange student accommodation and to do travel arrangements. It is also advisable to have sufficient funds available on arrival since it can take some time to clear cheques and open bank accounts, especially if you are a foreign student.

Please note, although the University of KwaZulu-Natal normally provides remission of fees to full time post graduate students, the student and supervisor still need to ensure that sufficient funding is available to conduct the research project, such as subsistence, travelling, laboratory equipment, etc...
